Firemen To Get Cash Payments

Canyon volunteer firemen have each agreed to accept a yearly payment from the city of $122.40.

Announcement of the volunteer's decision, made at a special city commission session last week, came after the firemen had been told the gift of free water, sewer and garbage collection services which they have been receiving is illegal.

Decision by the volunteers to accept the pecuniary payment which will total $4,039.20 for the 33 firemen when the policy becomes effective, was made last week to City Manager Paul Davis by Chief Jim Christopher.

Commissioners were recently told by a bonding company the gift of free services was illegal. Also criticizing the free water, sewer and garbage collection services was the city auditors.

COG Meet Scheduled

Canyon commissioners and Randall County commissioners will meet in Amarillo's Municipal Building Jan. 4 at 3 p.m. with other Amarillo metropolitan area governing bodies for a meeting of the Councils of Government.

The session, scheduled in the City Commission's chamber, was called by Amarillo Mayor J. Ernest Stroud and will also involve Potter County and Amarillo City commissions.

Mayor Stroud said he understood that COG was a separate governing body "above and beyond" the four commissions, with 51 per cent of the officers appointed and the remainder elected.

Small Fry Basketball Meet Set

A meeting of youngsters interested in playing basketball has been called by Dr. Duane Guy for 10 o'clock the morning of Jan. 6.

The meeting will be held in the basement of the old administration building at West Texas State University. Participation is open to 4th, 5th and 6th grade students. Dr. Guy said coaches and adult assistants are badly needed.

Businesses Will Close

Most Canyon business establishments will be closed New Years Day, according to Roland Black, manager of the local Chamber of Commerce.

Both City Hall and the Randall County Courthouse will be closed in observance of the holiday as will the US Post Office and all federal and state offices.

Classes in the Canyon Independent School District system will resume Tuesday and West Texas State University students will begin classes Wednesday.

Driving Hazardous On Slick Streets

Blowing snow and fog descended on Canyon and the surrounding area early Wednesday, with a promise from the US Weather Bureau of more to come this week end.

Five-day outlook for this area shows a very slow warming trend today through Friday, but temperatures will drop during the week end when .10 to .20 inches of moisture is expected.

Temperatures, which ranged last week from a low of 15 to a high of 63, will be an average of 11 to 14 degrees below the seasonal normals of the 20's to the 40's.

License Tags Arrive Here

Automobile license plates, which go on sale Feb. 1, 1968, have been received in the Randall County Tax Department office, according to Bill Money, assessor-collector.

The license plates must be on all vehicles by April 1, 1968, and will be available at either the tax office here or at the sub-station at 3806 S. Bowie in Amarillo.

Those purchasing the license plates must show a current registration receipt and title of ownership, Money said.

County Asks Bids On Vote Machines

Randall County commissioners court Friday of last week voted to open bids Jan. 8 on 150-machine punch-type voting system.

It was provided in the move that 34 automatic voting machines be traded in on the new voting system.

The system is expected to cost the county about $47,100 with about $17,000 trade-in allowance for the 34 automatic voting machines owned by the county.

The new system, only recently approved for use in Texas, will permit voting on IBM punch cards. These can be counted rapidly by an IBM computer with counting to be finished within minutes after the cards reached the computer center.

The IBM computer system at Killgore Research Center on the West Texas State University campus probably will be used in counting Randall County ballots.

The new voting machines probably will be used in all 20 of Randall County's voting precincts as well as for absentee voting.

Plans call for the purchase of several demonstrator machines for use in demonstrating the voting method to prospective voters.

The new machines probably will be delivered in time for use in the 1968 elections.

Crews from the Texas Highway Department were busy here early Wednesday morning clearing snow from the Canyon Expressway and Fourth Avenue. Travelers warnings were in effect Wednesday due to icy spots on most highways in the area.

Below are the readings from the Canyon Weather Station on the campus of West Texas State University. These are for the days of Dec. 20 through Dec. 26.

To Collect Delinquent City Taxes

An attempt to collect about $33,000 in delinquent taxes is being made by the City Tax Department, according to Rankin Eisenberg, assessor-collector.

Letters requesting payment of the delinquent taxes were mailed to residents last week, he said. Requested payment date is by Sunday.

Of the outstanding real estate property tax due since 1939, $4,074.79 of the $17,744.25 figure is for penalty and interest. Delinquent personal property taxes total $15,181.77, of which $2,343.12 is for penalty and interest.

Joint Meet Slated Here

Marvin Springer, urban planning consultant from Dallas, was to have met Wednesday afternoon with members of Canyon's City, Planning and Zoning commissions.

The meeting was called to discuss subdivision regulations Springer has been preparing for the city. Three governmental agencies have been conducted to formulate a new set of zoning ordinances for the city.

Springer is also helping grant a request for planning process assistance from the Department of Housing and Urban Development in Washington, D. C.

A New Year

LITTLE MR. NEW YEAR, Bradley Scott Hicks dons his tophat for a "night-on-the-town" to welcome the new year of 1968. The youngster is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Roland Hicks of Canyon and will celebrate his first birthday January 29. He was among the first babies born at Neblett Memorial Hospital during 1967.

Moreland Announces Postal Rate Raises

Increased rates for all classes of mail except parcel post and international mail will go into effect Jan. 7, Postmaster Lee E. Moreland reminded postal customers today.

"Even with the new rates of six cents for first-class mail and 10 cents for air mail, postal service is still a real bargain," Postmaster Moreland declared. "For six cents you can send a letter to any of the 50 States, to any United States territory or possession, to Canada or Mexico, or to an American serviceman stationed anywhere in the world."

Postmaster Moreland pointed out that the new rate for post cards will be five cents and for air mail post cards eight cents.

He said the added cent in the letter rate is a 20 per cent increase compared to a 24 per cent boost in the rates for mailing newspapers and magazines and a 34 per cent hike for advertising circulars, "occupant" mail, and other material in the third-class category.

The new rate of six cents per ounce for first-class mail applies up to 13 ounces and the new rate of 10 cents per ounce for air mail applies up to 7 ounces. Under the new rate structure all first-class mail over 13 ounces and all air mail over 7 ounces will be merged into a single category.

Those heavier pieces of first-class and air mail subject to the single rate schedule will be delivered by the fastest available means of transportation.

A flat rate of 80 cents will be charged for all mail in this category up to one pound. For all mail weighing more than one pound, the present air parcel post rates will continue to apply, except that the postage on matter weighing between one and five pounds will change at half-pound intervals rather than one pound intervals.

Moreland said the new rate structure will mean a reduction of postage on some parcels.

Another rate change will affect the general public is the increase from four to six cents for the first two ounces of individual pieces of third class class mail. Unsealed greeting cards may be sent at this rate.

Early Day New Year Party Recalled

(Editor's Note: NEW YEAR PARTY OF 1897. By Mrs. Clyde Warwick for the Randall County Historical Association. From interviews with Mr. Sterling Coffee, Mrs. Howard Stephenson and Mrs. E. D. Harrell.)

In 1886 a German farmer and his family settled on section 20, in Randall County, thirteen miles northwest of Canyon.

They were thrifty, industrious people and prospered more than the average pioneer.

In 1887 most settlers lived in dugouts or small shacks, but the Hoffmans had built a comfortable, substantial six room, three bedroom, story and a half house. So unusual was a house on the plains in these times people would drive miles just to look longingly at this house.

In 1897 the Hoffmans, who had four children, decided to give a New Years dance. As was the custom, all young people were invited.

There was some discussion among the parents about the advisability of the young people going without chaperons. In those days all young people were chaperoned by at least two married couples whenever they had a party. It just wasn't considered "proper" for young people not to be chaperoned. Of course, the Hoffmans would be there and everyone knew what nice people the Hoffmans were. They were liked by all. The young people won out. The parents gave in reluctantly and the young people left for the dance. Leaving Canyon about noon to drive the thirteen miles to the Hoffmans.

Mr. Sterling Coffee, who now lives in Amarillo and Mrs. Howard Stephenson, living in Happy attended the dance. Mrs. E. D. Harrell had spent the night in Happy with a friend and did not return in time to join the party.

Many tales have been told about this dance, but this is the way it was told to me by Mr. Coffee and Mrs. Stephenson.

The Coffee brothers had built a covered wagon for the trip to which they hitched four horses, taking with them eight couples. Two boys rode the horses. Mrs. Stephenson (Ora Long) went with the Lairs in a two wheel cart, with side curtains, others went on horseback. In all 26 young people attended the dance.

It was a beautiful day, warm, clear, filled with sunshine, more like a spring day than the last day of December. But before they arrived at the Hoffmans the sky to the North had turned an ominous black and a chill wind began blowing out of the North. All felt a storm was brewing.

It was dark when they arrived at the Hoffmans. Music furnished by the Bell brothers from Amarillo, two guitars and a violin, floated out to meet them. The dancing had begun.

The Hoffmans, expecting a large crowd had moved all the furniture out of three rooms.

There were more boys than girls, but boys were used to tying a handkerchief about one arm and taking the part of a girl, so sets were formed and the dance went on. They loved to dance. The waltz, quadrille, schottische and "Put Your Little Foot Down," followed one after another. Their hearts were young and gay. They paid little attention to the rising wind or the drifting snow that began to pile around the house.

At midnight supper was served from a table loaded with food previously prepared, supplemented by hot biscuits baked by Mrs. Hoffman, pan of pan.

When she tired, some of the girls took her place and when they tired Mrs. Hoffman went back to biscuit making. They were used to sour dough biscuits but these were different. The rolling pin thumped and the biscuit cutter clicked many times before every appetite was satisfied. The crowd exceeded the number expected but did not exceed the hospitality of the Hoffmans.

Dancing had not stopped for supper. While one group ate, another danced. They shifted positions, some coming back again and again for more biscuits and coffee. Everyone was happy, everyone was laughing that their guests were enjoying the evening, but as the storm increased they realized their guests would have to spend the night and possibly the next day, so the thrifty Hoffmans put back part of the food they had prepared, to use the next day.

The storm increased, the temperature kept dropping, the young people danced on. As the wee hours approached they became hungry and found the food the Hoffmans had put back and ate it all. They danced all night. When morning came they had danced all they wanted to. Mr. Coffee said he couldn't dance another step. They were tired and there was no place to sit down. There were a few chairs and they would take turn sitting in them but most of them had to stand or dance. There was no place to sleep or lie down to rest.

Daylight revealed the impossibility of anyone leaving. The storm had become a blizzard that lashed and tore at the house. The snow kept falling, the temperature dropping. They realized it might mean death to anyone who ventured out in the blizzard.

Tired of dancing they played games, "There was an Old Miller," "Go in and out the window," and others. They told stories, made up verses, played charades, "snap and spin the plate."

The boys had to go to the barn to feed and care for their horses. None ventured out in the storm alone, for fear of getting lost in the blinding snow, at least six went together. Everytime anyone left and returned they let in and brought in snow. Try hard as they could the Hoffmans could not keep the floors dry. There was only one stove besides the cook stove and these were kept full of wood, going full blast, all the time but could not keep the house warm. Those who were not dancing suffered from cold.

About ten o'clock Saturday morning the Hoffmans invited half of them in to eat. They had prepared fried side pork, gravy, cornbread and coffee. After the first group ate the second half came in.

By mid-afternoon Mr. Hoffman realized they had to have some rest. They had arrived early Friday evening and had not stopped since then. He took the boys with him to the barn, they brought in bales of hay, cut the wire, spread some of it on the damp floor and piled some in the corners of one room, spread tarpaulins over the hay piled in the corners and Mr. Hoffman told the boys to draw lots and half of them to lie down on the straw for six hours, after six hours the other half could lie down. Mr. Coffee said he drew the second half and as soon as his six hours was up he pulled one out and "fell in". He said he was worn out and dead for sleep. They slept with all their clothes on even their shoes. It was too cold to take anything off. The girls laid across the beds, six to a bed. One bed fell down but the girls slept on.

Around dark the Hoffmans again invited them in to eat and again they had prepared fried side pork, gravy, cornbread and coffee. Mr. Coffee said they always had plenty of good, hot coffee and it was a life saver. The storm raged (See PARTY Page 9)

Rev. Charles Meredith officiated at the exchange of double ring vows. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth E. Duncan of Canyon and is a granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Cas Jennings of Canyon. Parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Cooley of Gail. Mrs. Glenn Dowlen played appropriate nuptial selections at the organ and Miss Dianne Davis of Silverton sang "Because" and "Walk Hand in Hand with Me".

The church was decorated with floral baskets of yellow gladioli and mums. The altar was backed with a large arch style candelabra and flanked with smaller candelabra.

The bride wore a gown of antique white peau d' ange lace and English net designed along a Victorian style. The molded lace bodice featured a scooped neckline and elbow length sleeves marked with a fluted ruffle. The net skirt, accented with appliques of lace, was terminated in a chapel length train. Her three tiered veil of illusion was held to a miniature queen's crown of pearls and lace and she carried a cascade arrangement of yellow roses accented with dark green leather leaf fern. The bride was given in marriage by Kenneth Duncan.

Mrs. Don Tardy, cousin of the bride, served as matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Miss Kay Annette Kuykendall of Austin and Miss Holly Jo Troth of Canyon.

Candlelighters were Teddy Cooley and Gene Cooley, brothers of the bridegroom, from Gail. D'Ann Harmon and Gregory of Tulla, cousins of the bride, served as flower girl and ringbearer, respectively.

The bride's attendants were attired in formal length dresses of forest green velvet fashion with A-line skirts. Their headaddresses were fashioned of green tulle with matching roses.

Charles Cowley of Canyon was best man. Groomsman were Joe Cooley, brother of the bridegroom, from Lamesa, and Don Cumpston of Tulla. Ushers were Ronnie Elder and Orby Moore of Dimmitt.

Mrs. Klaus Hassack presided at the wedding registration table.

The reception honoring the couple was held in Fellowship Hall of the church. The bride's table was covered with a white net cloth over white satin. Mrs. John C. Duncan of Amarillo served the three-tiered wedding cake and Mrs. John Jennings of Canyon presided at the punch bowl.

For a wedding trip to points in New Mexico, the bride travelled in a red and olive green checked suit with lizard accessories.

A graduate of Canyon High School, the bride is a junior elementary education major at West Texas State University, where she is a member of Zeta Tau Alpha sorority.

The bridegroom is a graduate of Borden High School. He has completed his junior year at WTSU and is a technician at the Bushland Experiment Station. He is a member of Lambda Chi Alpha fraternity.

The proposed work plan submitted by Teller proposes the establishment of five sampling stations above the lake, and above and below Frio Creek and Friona.

Participating agencies in the study will be the Texas Water Development Board, Texas Water Quality Board, Texas Parks and Wildlife Department, Texas State Department of Health, Federal Water Pollution Control Administration, US Public Health Service and the Bureau of Sport Fisheries and Wildlife.

rate, Moreland said.

He emphasized that the new rate on unsealed greeting cards will not go into effect until Jan. 7, and until then they can be mailed at the old rate of four cents.

Moreland also noted that effective Jan. 7 special handling will be available on third-class parcels weighing between eight and sixteen ounces. Special handling has not been available on these parcels since 1958, when packages weighing between eight and sixteen ounces were transferred from fourth to third-class mail.

There will be no changes in the charges for special delivery, special handling, registered mail, certified mail, cash on delivery or insurance, Postmaster Moreland said.

"We have an ample supply of one-cent stamps on hand," Moreland said, "for those people who have five-cent stamps and need one-cent stamps to make up the postage required under the new rates."

Higher rates also will go into effect Jan. 7 for all categories of second-class mail, bulk-rate third-class mail, controlled circulation mail, and the educational materials category of fourth-class mail. Mailers using these classes who need information on the new rates should contact the local Post Office, Moreland declared.

First Baptist Church Site For Taylor-Bonds Wedding

First Baptist Church of Canyon was the scene, for the exchange of double ring marriage vows for Miss Frances Lorraine Taylor and Eugene "Shug" Bonds, Jr. last Friday night.

Dr. Strauss Atkinson, pastor of the church, officiated at the exchange of vows. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. C. Taylor of Canyon. Parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. Eugene S. Bonds, also of Canyon.

Miss Mary Ann Wheelock, organist, played traditional wedding marches. Mrs. Charles Brasher, vocalist, sang "Thine Alone" and Miss Susan Brantley, violinist, played "Meditation From Thais". Mrs. Brasher and Miss Brantley combined for "The Wedding Prayer".

The church was decorated with a large gothic arch background accented with salafoliage and cathedral candelabra. Flanking the altar were large urns on white Grecian columns filled with white gladioli and hot pink mums. Tall spiral candelabra accented the edges of the bridal party and the choir rail was draped with pleated white satin. Large foliage stands screened the choir area in the background. The traditional white aisle runner was used.

Mary Jane Grabber, Lubbock, cousin of the bride, served as maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Katie Uphaw, Sharon Sims and Becky Lassiter. They were attired in formal length gowns of hot pink velvet with scalloped scoop necklines and scalloped bell sleeves. Silver lace accented the bodice and each wore silver slippers. They carried bouquets of pink carnations accented with silver leaves.

The bridegroom's cousin, Linda Bonds, was flower girl. Ringbearer was Jim Greenwood.

Chester Hales of Claude was the best man. Groomsmen were Larry Taylor, brother of the bride, Don Howard and Mickey Abbott. Ushers were James Cabe, Mike Wilson, Curtis Mobley, Mark Olsen, Kenneth Hammons and Raymond Root.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a formal wedding gown featuring a fitted bodice and long fitted sleeves which terminated in petal points above the hands. The scalloped neckline was outlined with iridescent sequins and her bouffant skirt was tiered with rose lace and iridescent sequins. A white velvet bow accented the pointed waistline in back and cascaded into natural streamers. The lace skirt formed its own chapel train.

The bride carried a cascade arrangement on a white lace covered Bible which belonged to the bridegroom's mother. The bridal bouquet was centered with a white cattaleya orchid surrounded with white feathered carnations and rhinestones which matched the wedding gown.

In keeping with tradition, the bride wore her grandmother's wedding band and the watch worn by her mother at her own wedding. She also wore a strand of pearls, which were a gift from the bridegroom.

Special guests at the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. Foster Amburn of Floydada, grandparents of the bride; Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Campfield of Canyon and Mr. and Mrs. G. J. Bonds of Bentonville, Arkansas, grandparents of the bridegroom; and Mrs. Fay Adams of Canyon, great-grandmother of the bridegroom.

Wedding guests were registered by Miss Lee Hicks and Miss Peggy Wieser.

A reception honoring the couple was held in Baptist Student Union with the original "Drifter's Quartet" providing appropriate selections. Members of the quartet are Joe Moore, Alan Demus, Steve Hilton and Ric Wilson.

The bride's table was laid with white satin and featured a white floral centerpiece. The bridegroom's table was accented with beige and brown floral accessories and was laid with a beige crossstitch cloth.

Alternating at the serving tables were Linda Hand, Shary Kerbel, Jan Haggard and Shirley Gill. Other members of the houseparty were Mrs. Duane Howard, Mrs. Gene Morrison, Mrs. Bob Lindsey, Mrs. Roy Lyles, Mrs. Crosby Hammons and Mrs. Charles Wire Wright.

For a wedding trip to Denver, Colorado, the bride changed to a white wool suit with white mink collar. She wore a white hat and gloves and accented the ensemble with a pair of cranberry colored shoes.

Both the bride and bridegroom are graduates of Canyon High School and both are presently attending West Texas State University. They will make their home at 2403 Sixth Avenue in Canyon.

Cemetery Records Traced For County

BY WAYNE BOARD

Although it has generally been accepted that Jerry Adams, a Negro, was the first person buried in Dreamland Cemetery south of Canyon, records recently uncovered indicate otherwise.

By determining through near-ancient Randall County Clerk's records that the first cemetery was purchased Feb. 10, 1891 through action of the commissioner's court, the first burial is that of William McElroy March 1, 1891. McElroy was an uncle of Mrs. Ed Harrell, an early Randall County pioneer.

Although there is no official county record of McElroy's death, Mrs. C. W. Warwick recently discovered the information concerning the cemetery.

An old record of inquests docket indicated that Adams was killed by lightning near here while herding cattle July 28, 1891.

"Deceased was killed by lightning while herding cattle about 13 miles south from Canyon City, Tex.," the inquest dated July 29, 1891 reads. "From the information given by witnesses, and the result of the examinations made by G. H. Cagle, M. D., on the body of the deceased, I find said deceased was killed by lightning."

Although the inquest was signed by W. E. Burke, no record of his election to the justice of the peace office can be found. Records do show, however, the first peace justice to be J. W. Turner, who held the position for 45 years.

The only record of Judge Burke on file is his name on a petition to organize Randall County signed May 20, 1889. Also signing the petition that was presented to Potter County, which at that time was a part of Randall County, were 99 other early settlers--many of them cowboys on the T-Anchor Ranch.

Most of the elected officials, which included Judge Turner, were employed on the T-Anchor as cowboys.

Sam Wise, cook for the T-Anchor Ranch, entered the headquarters one day while the election to organize the county was being discussed.

When asked by one of the cowboys what office he would seek, Wise replied, "I'm going to run for sheriff". He won the election.

As for Dreamland Cemetery itself, the land was purchased Feb. 10, 1891 for a princely sum of $10 per acre for 10 acres from J. W. Kelley. Kelley had no patent on the acreage and was forced to forfeit the land back to the State of Texas later in 1891.

After the Dreamland acre changed hands several times, the State finally gave the area to Randall County in August of 1906. The land patent, signed Aug. 20, 1906 by Gov. S. W. T. Lanham, was made to then Randall County Judge J. M. Vansant.

The last owner of the land, John Knight, was married the same day William McElroy was buried in the cemetery south of Canyon City.

According to a March 18, 1891 article in the "Canyon City Echo", Knight's bride, Miss Margaret L. Roberts is "a beautiful and accomplished young lady of excellent qualities and is loved by all who know her". Knight was recognized by the "Echo" editor as a "splendid young gentleman of fine qualifications, strictly sober and moral habits."

"May their pathway be smooth and thornless down life's rugged hill, is the kind wish of the Echo," the article intones.

It is thought that the presiding minister, the Rev. B. F. Jackson, a Methodist-Episcopal Church circuit pastor for Canyon, Panhandle and Washburn districts, came here to bury McElroy and the couple decided to wed on the same day. Rev. Jackson was only in Canyon City once each month to conduct church services in the Randall County Courthouse.

No one is sure exactly where the first burials in the county were held, but it is somewhere near the T-Anchor Ranch headquarters building north of Canyon.

According to records, a cowboy on the T-Anchor named Misner was killed in 1881 when his horse named "Bob" fell on him. This is thought to be the first death although no one knows where Misner is buried.

In 1882, Robert Truvy and his wife had a child which died at the ranch headquarters. Mrs. Truvy, records show, helped skin buffalo until two days before the child was born and was skinning buffalo again two days after the child was born.

In 1885 a man died of tuberculosis here and later a Mexican drowned in the Tierra Blanca Creek and was buried "on the hill", records show, although no mention is given as to exactly where the "hill" is located.

Boone McClure, director for the Panhandle Plains Historical Museum, says he remembers interviewing old T-Anchor cowboys in 1929. As he recalls, the cowboys said the first cemetery was about one-quarter mile west of the headquarters.

This would place the first burying ground near the West Texas State University Agriculture Department buildings or perhaps under the Canyon Expressway.

Mrs. Beulah Prichard Heafner, who lived at the T-Anchor headquarters with her family in 1908, is unable to recall where the first graves were located, although she thinks it was east of the WTSU football stadium. If the burial grounds were located on that "hill", the first cemetery would be under the Santa Fe Railroad tracks.

Anyone having information concerning either Dreamland Cemetery or the first burying ground north of Canyon is asked to contact Mrs. Warwick.

Miss Dietz Is Honored

Miss Janet Dietz, bride-elect of Robert Dalton, was honored Dec. 10 in the Ed Szydoski home with a personal shower.

The bride-elect's chosen colors of green and white were used in decorating the serving table which was laid with white linen and centered with a bouquet of roses. Miss Charlotte Dietz registered guests and presiding at the serving table were Miss Mary Ann Cox and Charlotte Dietz.

Hostesses for the occasion were Misses Charlotte Dietz, Pat Dalton, Barbara Ray, Mary Ann Cox, Robbie and Vanita Weldert and Dorothy Szydoski.

Miss Szydoski and Miss Cox were also hostesses for an "odds and ends" event honoring Miss Dietz. The bride-elect was presented with an assortment of household items at the occasion.

and seed pearls. The fitted bodice was accented with short bell sleeves. The formal chapel train was accented with lace appliques and the slim skirt formed an A-line fashion.

Her veil of imported silk illusion was held to a headpiece of silk organza roses set with seed pearls. For something old, she wore a cameo ring belonging to her grandmother, Mrs. A. H. Simon. The bride borrowed a silver six pence belonging to Mrs. Don Munsell and her blue garter was handmade by Mrs. Vance Weldert.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Dietz wore a blue wool crepe dress with matching accessories and a white orchid corsage. The bridegroom's mother wore a pink silk dress with matching accessories.

A reception honoring the couple was held at the Farm Bureau Building with the bride's table covered with white net and centered with white mums arranged around a nine-branched candelabra. The bride is a graduate of St. Mary's Academy in Amarillo. She is a former student of West Texas State University and prior to her marriage was employed with the First National Bank of Canyon. A graduate of Pampa High School, the bridegroom formerly attended West Texas State University where he was a member of Alpha Phi Omega service fraternity. He is presently serving with the United States Navy.

MUMPS VACCINE IS NOW VERY EFFECTIVE

Many people who rightly fear the effects of mumps, evidently do not know how easily it can be avoided. Mumps are more dangerous than people thought in past years. If a man of reproductive age gets this disease, the possibility exists that it can settle in the reproductive organs and cause sterility.

Many adults have forgotten whether or not they had mumps as a child. There is now a positive action skin test which will tell your physician. For, if you have not had mumps then the mumps vaccine is a "Must." It can prevent much potential harm.

elected by the citizenry in the affected region.

COGs, which are accepted by the Department of Housing and Urban Development in Washington, D. C. where the project started under the original name of Washington Metropolitan Regional Conference in 1960, are a council of elected officials in a voluntary body or association composed predominantly of elected officials.

From HUD's standpoint, up to 49 per cent of a council's membership could be composed of members from school boards, water or sewer authorities or local citizens.

The COGs are headed by a salaried manager, with a portion of his expenses paid by each participating governmental agency.

Where the state planning enabling legislation permits, COGs may be established as regional planning commissions as is the case in Texas.

A primary function of COG is to coordinate and provide communication among various subdivisions of local government in a given area.

Mayor Stroud said a tentative budget of $55,000 was proposed by HUD for the local COG here, but that the figures would probably be considerably more as the program progresses. Under the Urban Development Act of 1966, the Secretary of the Department of Housing and Urban Development authority to give supplementary grants of 80 per cent, for a broad range of grant programs in urban areas.

The Amarillo mayor said he would begin the Jan. 4 session and make opening remarks, after which a question and answer period would be conducted. "I will try to be non-biased and listen to testimony on both sides," the mayor said, adding that he did not favor the COG program.

Mayor Stroud said State Senator Grady Hazlewood and several Texas representatives might be present for the meeting.

all Saturday and far into the night. The Hoffmans were worried. Their supplies were almost exhausted. The girls were bedraggled, the boys looked equally bad. Still they danced and played games, taking turns sleeping six hours at a time.

Just before dawn Sunday the storm stopped as quickly as it had started. Those closest to the storm started for home immediately. The boys in the covered wagon knew they could not make the long, slow trip back to Canyon without food. They decided to offer to pay the Hoffmans if they would feed them one more meal, but after all had left but the ones in the covered wagon, they invited them in to eat. Again they fried side pork, made gravy, cornbread and coffee. As soon as they had eaten they started for home. They drove the horses at a slow walk. The snow was piled high and it was bitter cold. The horses would flounder, plunge and make the wagon rock. The girls would become frightened, scream and the boys would have to quiet them and then get out and dig the horses out. Mr. Coffee said they had on their dancing slippers and the snow soon filled their slippers. How they longed for their boots. With the horses free they would start again, only to have the same thing happen over and over. It took them all day to drive to Canyon. Home at last, they all 'filled up', they were nearly starved, and fell into their beds.

The Hoffmans had done all they could for their comfort and had remained good natured through it all. But they remarked that if they ever gave another New Year party it would have to be in the summer time.

There were other New Year parties caught in this blizzard but they were at ranches where there were more supplies and room. The Hoffmans had entertained this group from Friday evening until Sunday morning, and it has the record of being the longest and largest party given in a family home on the Plains.

Wise Men

THREE WISE MEN who came bearing gifts for the Christ Child are portrayed from left by Carl Miller, Tommie Terrell and Allen Parson. The group of Jaycees were in costume for the annual "live nativity scene" which is co-sponsored each holiday season by the Canyon Jaycees and Jaycee-Ettes. The tableau was held last Thursday and Friday nights on the courthouse square.

or Lindsey said the city "wouldn't want to get in something that might involve fraud".

If the volunteers had paid the minimum water and sewer bills during last year, the mayor said, the city could have collected $3,548.60. The $122.40 per man for 1968 is the maximum amount the volunteers will receive, compared to an average of $9.08 per month they actually were given last year in free services.

Under bond covenants, the mayor stated, all water used within the city must be metered --even water used by each department. Meters will be needed at the CFD building and at the City Park.

A tentative agreement between the department and the city would make payments on a monthly basis.

In other commission action, approval for the extension of a water line to a restaurant site just north of Canyon's city limits was given. Making the request was the Amarillo law firm of Senders, Baker, Miller and Miller.

The lawyers will pay for the tie-in of a line, plus giving easement across the property to the city. City Engineer Bill McMorries, also of Amarillo, delinquent total $32,926.02, Eisenberg said the figure was less than one per cent of the entire tax roll, which amounts to about one-quarter million dollars.

Of the $32,000-plus figure, there are several errors and uncollectable accounts, Eisenberg explained.

If the taxes are not paid before Jan. 1, 1968, the letters from the department state, additional penalty and interest will be added.

Decision to instigate legal action in an attempt to collect delinquent taxes was recently made by the City Commission. Tax suits will apply to all real estate and personal property.

Chapel Site Of Nuptial Vows

Miss Eugenia Louise Reynolds and John Craig Hinger were united in marriage Saturday at Joseph A. Hill Chapel on the campus of West Texas State University.

Rev. Strauss Atkinson, pastor of the First Baptist Church, Canyon, officiated at the exchange of double ring vows.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Earl E. Reynolds of Amarillo. Parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Hinger of Canyon.

A basket of large pink and white mums flanked the altar which was decorated with tapers and small pink and white mums. The altar was silhouetted with graduated tapers. "The Wedding Prayer" and other appropriate numbers were played by the organist, Mrs. Larry Sanders of Canadian.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of white bridal satin with a shallow scoop neckline and long petal-point sleeves. The dress was accented with an empire waistline and matching bow. The skirt was adorned with rows of iridescent sequins. Her three tiered chapel length wedding veil was attached to a bow of satin accented with iridescent sequins and she carried a cascade of white roses accented with green holly leaves.

Bridesmaids were Mrs. Don Huffman, Amarillo, and Mrs. Calvin Clarke, Amarillo. Maid of honor was Miss Patreca Schlegel, Amarillo. Candlelighter was Pamela Kay Reynolds, sister of the bride.

The bridal attendants were gowned in floor length dresses of pink crepe with bell sleeves and empire waistlines accented with matching bows. Matching fingertip veils were attached to pink bows atop their heads and each carried a nosegay of pink and white mums.

Larry Brotherton of Red River, New Mexico served as best man. Groomsmen were Roger Cutcher of Albuquerque, New Mexico and Roy Harris of Borger. Ushers were Charles Smyrill, Canyon, and William Wimberly, Dawn.

A reception honoring the couple was held in the Baptist Student Center. Mrs. Roger Cutcher of Albuquerque, New Mexico, sister of the bridegroom, served the cake and punch was served by Mrs. Geneva Woolley of Wichita, Kansas. Others in the houseparty were Mrs. Lowell Bast, Mrs. Jim Matthews and Mrs. J. D. Owen, Amarillo; Mrs. Lawrence Brotherton and Mrs. Crews Henry, Canyon.

Mrs. Henry G. Norrid attended the guest book.

For a wedding trip to Colorado Springs, Colorado, the bride travelled in a white knit dress with belted back and a kelly green coat accented with brass buttons on the double-breasted front.

The couple will make their home at Dawn.

The bride is a graduate of West Texas State University, where she was a member of Delta Zeta and Sigma Tau Delta. She is a first grade teacher at Gene Howe Elementary School.

Currently engaged in farming, the bridegroom is a graduate of West Texas State University and owns Bruce Spruce Ranch at Pagosa Springs, Colorado.
